Angela Bull and her team at Epsilon productions are an absolute pleasure to work with. They create a unique blend of exciting, challenging and dynamic theatrical productions without forgetting the need to be accessible to the audience. They bring professional production standards and an approach to partnership working between company and venue that should be 'Page 1' in the textbook to theatre production. One of the best companies we have had at the Tabard Theatre and we look forward to working with them again in the future.
